Our Services:

Ecofunomics LLP is an educational and research firm serving knowledge across 81+ countries. We provide services to educational institutes and individuals interested in education and knowledge. There are two services in your arena:

1) Schools/Colleges/Universities/educational institutes: We provide workshops, seminars, software training. Per student is charged a certain amount. We also conduct field trips including, research training and educational tours.

2) Article publishing: Our website www.ecofunomics.com, is our portfolio. We have secured amazing testimony and feedback on our website. We have had extremely reputed and noble knowledge contributions from high-ranked professionals, prestigious award winners, Ivy league researchers, and Indian reputed professors. If a student wants to publish with us, we help them get their work published at international standards. We do not charge for publication, but we charge for the e-space, research, and writing services such as grammar correction, plagiarism, concept check by Phds, SEO ranking, etc. We also personally market their work internationally.

Business Development Executive Role:

Assuming you have understood our services, let's explain the role of a Business Development Executive.

1) Schools/Colleges/Universities/educational institutes: Your task will be very simple. Either you meet a teacher/professor/representative, or you can simply call them over their mobile. Convince them to engage in a seminar, workshop, or any other research activity with us. So, a simple phone call will fetch you INR 10,000 to 20,000. So, in a month, you can easily earn over INR 50,000.
